Rev Tarrant County, through the Rev Partnership program, exists to foster a forum for collaboration and convene key stakeholders in the Tarrant County education ecosystem to directly improve outcomes on the cradle to career academic pipeline. Rev Partnership will serve as a countywide backbone entity, focusing initial efforts on partnerships with 16 Independent School Districts within Tarrant County. The public education leaders' upfront engagement and authorization is imperative to confidently advance the work.

Through Rev Partnership, education system leaders will have the opportunity to come together and identify effective practices, tackle common and shared challenges and scale what is working to support the academic performance and improve outcomes for the 700,000 students in the Tarrant County education system.

Rev Partnership will collect and analyze data to generate insights and inform action, bridge systems and link programs that are critical to achieving pipeline metrics, and champion and scale effective practices. This work will be executed by strategic priority convenings where stakeholders spanning districts, higher education, community nonprofits and other sectors will convene regularly to translate priorities into strategies and tactics. The convenings will allow for data sharing that will contribute to continuously improving and reaching short, mid-, and long-term goals. Rev Partnership will communicate progress and bridge community and system partners to implement programs and strategies once identified, leaning on the existing program efforts underway in our community. As a result, a more coordinated education system will exist that can tackle challenges and opportunities from a regional strategic approach providing a more streamlined education system for Tarrant County children.

Rev Tarrant County will utilize FRF Funds to cover the salary and fringe expenses of three full time positions: Managing/Executive Director, Operations Manager, and Communications Director. Additionally, Rev Tarrant County will utilize FRF Funds to cover the cost of a portion of contract staff.

Program Evaluation:

Activity	Activity Conducted	Timeframe	Expected Number to be Served	Expected Outcomes	Intended Benefit
1	Collaboratives organized by grade level, benchmark, challenge and/or stakeholder group	10x/year	6,000	An increase to student performance on one or more metric on the academic pipeline from early learning to CCMR.	Significantly increase student outcomes on meaningful measures of success, coordinated and strategic investment in resources and practices that work, increased involvement and support across stakeholder groups for educational outcomes.
2	Facilitated data presentations to ISDs within Tarrant County	10x/year	400,000	Superintendents within Tarrant County will implement a minimum of three strategic priorities correlated to improved student outcomes.	School Superintendents will be able to tailor their actions and investment of resources to address the challenges and opportunities that exist within the population they serve.
3	Convening of Tarrant County education leaders	2x/year	700,000	Two metrics on academic pipeline improve, thereby, demonstrating improvement in student learning.	A cross-sector response will leverage the natural intersection of challenges and opportunities that children and families across our county experience within health, education, housing, safety, and food, as well as ensure that decisions made in one sector do not exacerbate challenges within another
4	Countywide education initiative launch	January 2022 through December 2024	700,000	At least one metric on academic pipeline improves, thereby, demonstrating improvement in student learning.	The countywide initiative can more effectively and efficiently reach stakeholders, address the needs and scale of the challenge than if each district independently used their limited resources to develop and implement the initiative alone.
